mrs. maurita siedentopf

if it is true that older people are supposed to set an example for younger people, then mrs. siedentopf has truly done her job.

mrs. siedentopf is more than the ordinary teacher. she is concerned with what happens to her students and what they make of themselves. she takes a deep interest in everything around her. this can be seen in the cheery warmth of her room and by the simple beauty of the dam in the spring.

mrs. siedentopf has not only taught us about mitosis, life functions, and cell structure, she has also taught us that being satisfied with what we do and what we have is not enough; we must continue to do better. she has taught us that in taking a personal interest in ourselves, we can become a better person.

and so, in gratitude, we dedicate this 1967 chief to mrs. maurita m. siedentopf, who has dedicated the past 10 years to us.

dedication

foreword

each class to attend case has played the same sports, belonged to the same clubs, and has been part of the same organizations. for each class there has been certain moments—the game won by one point in the final seconds, the night of a concert, the day of a big test, the prom. each class has found friendship, work, frustrations and rewards. so will each class to follow. as years go by the old is replaced with the new and progress moves forever onward. but the experiences represented on these pages belong to us. these words and pictures describe the way in which we molded our four years. they are an attempt to capture in time some of the unique meanings of case for us. these are our memories.

the world is filled with questions to be answered by the world of science. these questions cannot be answered by factor but rather by ideas that have to be proved and their implications sought out. for a student of science it is a look into the world around him, a question of himself.

a freshman enters a new phase of life when he begins his first year of high school. he is confronted with many new responsibilities and adjustments, the foremost, being able to accept work and do it independently. freshmen are caught between two distinct attitudes. upper-classmen regard them as wide eyed infants, and teachers attempt to make them act like young adults. a freshman's year is a fruitful one however, for he learns how to adjust himself to new types of work and people, and also he is prepared for his next three years.

to be a sophomore is to face the intermediary life of high school. the wavering self-reliance of past years is establishing itself with more stability, while the awe of upperclassmen is still profound. it is to lose some attention present in adolescence, and gain more responsibility as adults. the confusion of life is somewhat dissolved by the gradual understanding that the future, whatever he makes it, is his.

a junior is surrounded by the hectic activities of establishing his social life. the experience of dependence is grasping out for a taste of independence. he has some idea of what he wants, and longs to test his wings. the first attempt at success is made by the management of the prom; he revels at the result of his work, and thrills with prospects for the future.

this season started out rather poorly for the fighting cards. then on columbus day the cards broke their slump with a decisive win over warren. from then on case left little to be desired in spirit and effort. they followed with two more powering victories over dighton-rehoboth and seekonk. in the seekonk game the cards set a school scoring record with 42 points.

five of the boys were placed on the all narry first team. these boys were larry abbruzzi, bill ashley, charly ulmschneider, tom blakey, tony ferreira. roger dawe missed by a narrow margin and was voted to a utility spot.

the cardinals finished the campaign as runnerup in the narry league.

case high enjoyed its finest season in cross country this year under coach lussier. their final record of 4-7 and a fourth place in the southeastern massachusetts league meet, may not look like much, but to the boys on the team it meant quite a lot, with only a few graduating seniors, coach lussier is anxiously looking forward to next year's cross country season.

basketball

a hustling offense and pressing defense enabled case to have one of its most exciting seasons in years. led by co-captains bruce lopes, and gerry kay, the cardinals suffered only two losses in the narry league to finish a respectable second place and a tech tourney berth. their only losses came from a powerful holy family team. also influential in the victories were seniors larry abruzzi and dave ferguson.

the jv team was even more successful than the varsity, compiling a 13-1 record to capture the narry league jv championship, and giving coach gordon great hopes for the future.

ALMA MATER

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken Form'd in dear Case High.
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Seal'd by friendship's tie.

CHORUS: Alma Mater - Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart;
Ode Victorious, we go singing
As from these halls we depart.

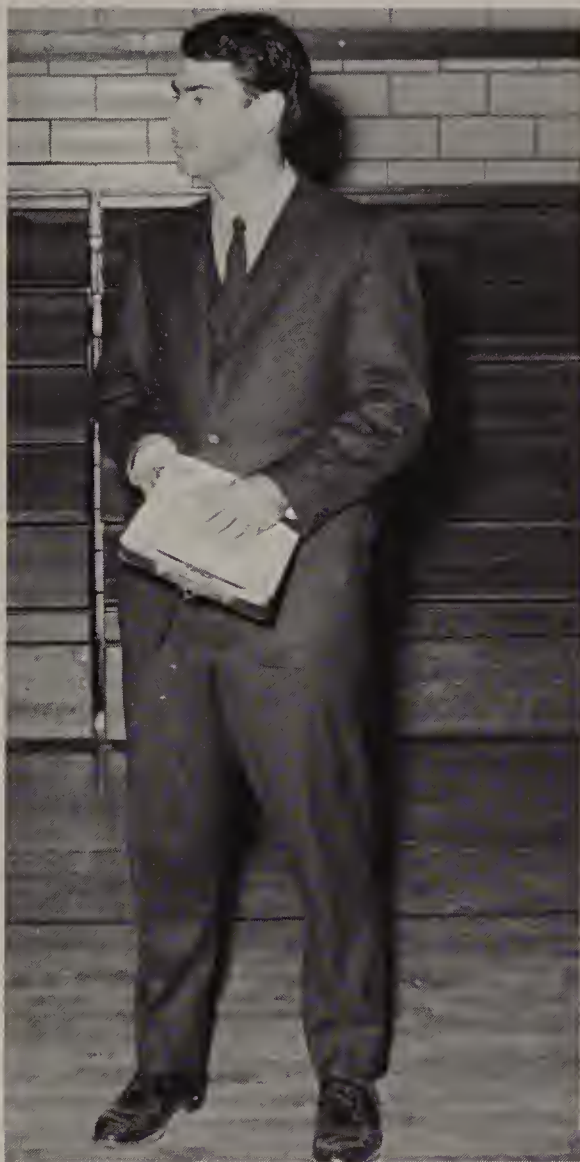

Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye,
And waft us back o'er life's broad track
To pleasures of past day.

High School life at best is passing Gliding swiftly by:
Then let us pledge in word and deed
Our love for dear Case High.

baseball '67

the cardinals continued their winning tradition in baseball in 1966. the final standings left them tied at the top with old rochester. they had the championship in their grasp, but a late season slump prevented them from winning it alone. mike macedo and larry abbruzzi made the all-narry team, while wayne chase, pete landock, and mike travis made the second team.

this season with most of the starters returning, coach mccarthy is looking for another fine repeat performance.

the case high track team under coach lafazia finished its 1966 season with a fine record of 6 wins and 2 defeats. the two losses came from old rochester, the narry league champs, and dighton-rehoboth, by a slim three point margin. however, these losses were compensated by resounding victories over seekonk, apponequet somerset, foxboro, and two wins over warren. jack jean and euge willette led case to a third place in the narry league meet with wins in the 100 yard dash and the shot put respectively. other high scorers for the year were harry mckinley, paul cote, art pacheco, brad remy, and steve cross.

coach lafazia hopes to better the record with this year's team which will be led by captain brad remy. other members the coach will be counting on are steve cross, chuck smith, russ noble, gerry shorrock, jim eddy, roger dawe, and carl windle.

this year was a very exciting one for the girls. they worked hard and this was proven by their 8-2 record. after completing their regular season, with just one loss, they were involved in a play-off with sacred hearts academy for first place. they lost, ending the season on a sad note, but still retaining second place.
